

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1893.

NO. 74

HUSTONVILLE.

—Hustonville has been very dull of late and the young people have been given a chance to rest up. There hasn't been a hop in town for four years.

—The pupils of Prof. M. G. Thompson's college are making preparations for a musical and literary entertainment on Thanksgiving evening and our people are joyfully anticipating it.

—Mrs. Prissie Drye lost her pocket book one night last week and has neither heard of it nor the $15.50 that it was in it. If this paragraph is read by the finder he will greatly oblige Mrs. Drye by returning his find.

—Friday's INTERIOR JOURNALS did not reach here till Saturday and as a consequence there was a furor. The wreck on the L. & N. was the cause. By the way, the L. J. has three times the largest circulation of any paper that comes to our office.

—Miss Anna Reid gave her scholars a candy pulling at Beechwood School-house, Friday afternoon, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The candy was made by those expert candy manufacturers, Misses Jennie Reid and Mary Dodd.

—Hunn & Coffey, the energetic young Moreland merchants, have completed their handsome and commodious store-room and are now doing business in it. This, with King & Prewitt's fine establishment, gives Moreland two stores that a town ten times its size would be proud of.

—W. M. McAfee, late of Stanford and later of the firm of Alford & McAfee, McKinney livervmen, has rented the Carpenter stable and will open a livery and feed stable in a few days. This will give our clever townsman, Millard Allen, opposition, but he can be relied on to hold his own no matter who or what comes.

—Mr. J. G. Weatherford has rented Mrs. Bradley's residence for next year and it is very probable that Mrs. Prissie Drye will return to her property, which Mr. Weatherford will vacate. This will be bad news to the traveling public and the good table she sets at the Weatherford House will be sadly missed.

—Our citizens are looking forward to see what improvements the new trustees will make. Street lamps and sidewalks repaired would greatly help the appearance of the town as well as add comfort and safety to its citizens. There is abundance of filthy lucre in the treasury and we suggest that some of it be used as above stated.

—Mr. J. M. Cook remains quite ill and his family and friends are growing very uneasy about him. His daughter, Mrs. R. J. Lyles, of Nashville, arrived Saturday to attend his bedside. Miss Lelia Adams, a Birmingham beauty, is the guest of Miss Mary Adams. Tonia Hunn and family will move to Columbia this week, greatly to the regret of our people. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams have returned to their home at Longview, Ala. Misses Jessie and Kate Cook have both been sick with severe colds, which seem to be epidemic here.

This official vote of Lincoln county is as follows:

Precincts.	Miller, Lay, Helm, McClary
Stanford, 1.	95	87	97	102
" 2.	97	96	101	101

Miller's majority, 62.

This is the vote of the four counties of the senatorial district as reported by the returning boards:

Counties	Miller.	Lay.
Boyle	735	693
Garrard	873	984
Lincoln	837	775

The farmer who edits the Louisville Times thus discoursed on the unrivaled weather of last week: The wiseacre who says genuine Indian summer never precedes a spit of snow, doesn't know what he is talking about. A genuine spell than this of the genuine thing never painted the forests in blazing red and burnished gold, or softened them with a touch of gray haze. If such weather and other conditions ruled the whole year round, there would be no cities or civilized men. Everybody would take to the woods.

There is no disease so fatal among children as diphtheria and every precaution should be used to prevent it. If this dread disease makes its appearance in your neighborhood, take Stockton's Antiseptic—it is a sure preventive. It kills all the germs of disease in the system before they can find lodgment. The old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is well worth remembering.

—The present year will have 53 Sundays, beginning and ending on that day of the week.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—The great Arlington Minstrels will beat at the opera house on the night of the 14th.

—It is reported this morning that Levi Vaughn had a tooth pulled Sunday and it bled so freely that he died Monday morning.

—A little daughter of Squire Alex Arnold, of the Locust Grove neighborhood, who was badly burned by her clothes catching fire about ten days ago, died on Sunday.

—I noticed in your paper a statement copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer that a Miss Lunsford, of London, Ky., had committed suicide. No such family lives here and nothing of the kind has occurred at this place.

—Two negroes were brought here from Mt. Vernon, Sunday, accused of having taken up a rail in order to wreck a train near Mt. Vernon. The rail was discovered before any train passed over. Ballou is mixed up in this attempt. County court here to-day and a large crowd in attendance. Everybody says hang them and it may be done.

—There have been a good many deaths in Laurel county the past week. Mrs. Thompson, mother of H. C. Thompson, died at East Bernstadt. "Uncle" Tommy Edwards died Thursday. J. D. Pittman, my fellow townsman and personal friend, departed this life about 12 o'clock Thursday, of typhoid fever. The remains were taken in charge by the Masons and Knights of Pythias and conveyed to their last resting place at Pittsburgh and consigned to earth with appropriate ceremonies by both orders. About 300 people were present to pay their last tribute to the dead.

—The wreck of the passenger train near Altamont Thursday night has created considerable excitement and talk here. Of course the report that no one was seriously hurt has reached you and you have doubtless as accurate a report of the occurrence in type already as I can give.

After the passenger was thrown from the track it was discovered that tools used by the section hands were close to the wreck and one rail had been taken entirely out. Upon further investigation it was learned that the tool-house at Hazel Patch had been broken open and the tools taken from that place. The fact that Jim Ballou, formerly of Rockcastle county, and his brother-in-law, John Collins, whose father moved here from Clay county some eight years ago, had been put off the passenger at Hazel Patch Thursday evening, while trying to beat their way to Pittsburgh on "blind baggage," looked suspicious and Col. Bill Stringer immediately arrested these parties. Collins confessed that they did the work. It has been agreed between the two that they would rob the express and mail car and that one of them was to finish all who were not killed, while the other secured the booty, but when the accident occurred their nerves failed them and they skipped. When they were brought here Friday evening and the facts learned every man and most of the women who expressed any opinion as to how they should be served, said they ought to be hung and if some one would have taken the leadership this verdict could have been executed.

GRAB ORCHARD.

—To those wishing photos taken we will say Mr. Cordier will be here every Saturday in this month.

—Misses Lucie Stuart and Bettie McFall are back after a pleasant trip to Livingston and Pittsburgh.

—New corn is selling at $1.75 to $2 delivered. T. McHolmes sold to parties $350 worth of butcher cattle.

—We are having the finest weather possible for corn gathering and our farmers are busy hauling it to the cribs.

—Mr. Miller Gilbert, of Manchester, is dead. He was a brother of Mrs. Chas. Redd, of this place. He was a bachelor and we hear leaves a small estate.

—A boy made his appearance in the home of Dr. Cooper last Wednesday night. He is said to be a fine, healthy fellow and his grand father, Mr. C. A. Redd, Sr., is about as proud as the parents.

—Mr. Voiers, the prohibition State lecturer, delivered an excellent lecture at the Holmes' School-House, Friday night. His remarks show deep and earnest thought, spiced with wit and he hits his mark every time.

—There will be a box supper at the college next Friday night, to which every one is kindly invited. The proceeds are for the W. C. T. U. and we hope there will be plenty of boxes prepared and plenty of buyers. Music will be furnished by the band and a good time for all is promised.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism; his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by A. R. Penny, druggist.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The protracted meeting at the Winchester Christian Church has closed with 28 additions.

—The capital letter "Q" will be found but twice in the old testament and three times in the new.

—There are 300 students in Moody's Bible Institute in Chicago. They do practical mission work every night.

—Rev. Z. Meek, of Catlettsburg, editor of the Central Methodist, was defeated for mayor by Capt. J. C. Hopkins, by a small majority.

—There are 180 students in the several theological seminaries in the U. S. studying for the ministry of the Southern Presbyterian church.

—Dr. J. W. Warder, secretary of the State board of missions, was here in consultation with Rev. A. V. Sizemore and other members of the committee.

—John D. Rockefeller has made another conditional gift of $500,000 to the University of Chicago. His former munificent gifts to this school already aggregate $3,600,000.

—The annual convention of Christians at Work in the United States and Canada is being held under the auspices of the International Christian Workers Association in Atlanta, Ga.

—Father Connelley, a Catholic priest, was convicted at Duluth, Minn., of raping a girl of 17, who had gone to him to make confession, and it is likely that he will spend the rest of his days in prison.

—Rev. W. A. Slaymaker had to leave his meeting at Boyd's in the midst of a glorious revival. There had been 18 additions to the church to Saturday and many were still anxiously inquiring what they must do to be saved.

—At the meetings of Rev. George O. Barnes standing room is at a premium and many are turned away every night. A striking feature of these meetings is the large number of men who are always in attendance.—Lexington Leader.

—By a unanimous vote of his congregation Sunday Rev. A. V. Sizemore was granted a month's leave of absence to raise $2,700 for the Janie Wash Institute at Middleburg, which institution will be sold under decree of court in December unless that amount is forthcoming.

—The latest statistics of the Salvation Army show that their work is established in 23 countries, in 21 different languages, has 40 newspapers with an annual circulation of 42,000,000 copies; they also report 8,070 stations, 10,816 officers and estimate that they reach not less than 7,000,000 persons every week.

—Owing to their inability to collect money from the members to pay the necessary church expenses, the deacons of the Christians church here recently resigned in a body. Saturday an election for a new set was held and Bros. J. S. Hocker, J. W. Haylen, G. A. Peyton and Will Severance were chosen, the youngest who have served the church in our recollection.

—The meeting at McKendree, conducted by Revs. Arnold and Helm, closed Sunday night with about 25 conversions, several restorations, 13 additions to the church and a general awakening of the church and community. The preaching of Bro. Helm was very acceptable to the people. His fearless exposures of sin, his tender and loving appeals, his simple, but strong presentations of Christ and a full and blessed salvation, won the hearts of his hearers and did much good. It is an instance of practical Christian fraternity when a Presbyterian and a Methodist can work together as did the two ministers in this meeting. X

DANVILLE.

(Advocate.)

—Centre College again defeated the Athletic Club at football Saturday afternoon. The score was 12 to 8.

—There were eight additions to the Baptist congregation at prayer meeting last night, after Mr. Lynch had made one of his interesting "little talks."

—Local bird hunters, finding that there are no quail in this section, are making preparations to go to other counties for game. Several parties are being made up.

—The president attributes the defeat of the democrats to the failure of the Senate to act promptly on the proposition to repeal the purchasing clause of the silver law. He considers that the fact of the democratic Congress and executive being able to bring this result about has not had time to be appreciated.

The Modern Jack Horner.

"Little Jack Horner sat in a corner,
Eating a Christmas pie;
He put in his thumb and pulled out a plum,
And said 'what a good boy am I!'"

But little Jack Horner became a deep mourner when older he grew and a glutton.
For his liver, I'll state, was like a dead weight,
As he drank wine and ate too much mutton.

Poor Jack's time of grief, however, was brief.
And of sickness he ceased to be fearful;
For a boon friend said "Well, let's try Pierce's Pellets."

And with good lives both are now cheerful.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, absolutely effective in cases of sick headache, constipation, indigestion, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. Satisfaction guaranteed.

$300 reward offered for an incurable case of Catarrh by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, sold by druggists.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Local hunters report quail unusually scarce.

—Miss Christine Bradley entertained a few of her young friends Saturday evening.

—Mayor Elect Robert Kinnaird and the new councilmen will take charge of the city's affairs Jan. 1.

—The protracted meeting at New Antioch closed Saturday night with 15 additions. The baptizing took place Sunday evening in Sugar Creek.

—Wm. McClelland Johnson and family have returned from Louisville. Mr. R. E. Hughes was here Sunday. Capt. E. W. Lillard and wife, of Danville, were here Sunday.

—The meeting at the Baptist church closed Friday night with eight additions to the membership. The baptizing will take place at Dix river next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—There has been 33 new suits filed to the next term of circuit court, which begins Monday. Of this number 17 are in equity and 16 common law. The criminal docket is composed chiefly of violations of the liquor laws.

—A very large audience assembled at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning to hear Dr. W. C. Young, of Danville, preach, but that gentleman failed to come. A telegram this morning says that he started here, but took the wrong road and went to Stanford. The audience was greatly disappointed.

—The foot ball craze seems to have possession of the community. It is reported that the teams of two of the eastern colleges have turned the sport into regular brawls and altercations that would disgrace the profession of prize fighters. It is also said that in one western college they have a "Professor of Foot Ball." If those light footed gentry want exercise, why don't they go to some widow's house and assist in shoveling in a load of coal?

—Mr. George Denny, Sr. received a telegram from Texas Friday afternoon stating that his nephew, Faulkner Lusk, had committed suicide. Mr. Lusk was the republican candidate for county clerk here in 1890, but withdrew from the race and went out West to teach school. The message contained no particulars except that he had killed himself and been buried there. He was a model young man and had a host of friends here who deeply deplore his untimely death.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Waller Harrison, of Lebanon, and Miss Margaret Dugan were married at Danville.

—Colorado's 4,000 majority for female suffrage is explained by a newspaper of the locality to mean that the male residents are short of wives and seek to encourage immigration.

—Josie Mansfield, who figured 20 years ago in the Fisk Stokes affair, has turned up again. This time she appears as the wife of Robert L. Reade, who is about to sue for divorce.

—One of the most charming girls in all the land is to be married here one of these bright mornings to neither a Prince nor a Duke nor a fortune hunter, but a young business man of unblemished name, who will make her a model husband. Guessing is now in order.—Hustonville Cor. Advocate.

—At Manchester, three months ago, John Smith killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Davis, and now the husband of the murdered woman has married his son-in-law's daughter. Smith fled the country and has not been apprehended, but Davis is still prosecuting the case. He had Smith indicted for murder and has his young wife as a witness against her father.

—Invitations are out to the marriage of Mrs. Samuel Cabell Lackey, of Atlanta, formerly of this county, to Miss Bettie Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David VanArsdell, of Harrodsburg. The ceremony will occur at noon, Nov. 22d, at the home of the bride. Mr. Lackey is an excellent young man and his prospective bride is said to be both lovely and lovable.

—Miss Anna Schilling, of Richmond, who married a drummer named Harry Stroth, who proved to be a married man with two children, has had an interview with wife No. 1, says the Register, which was mutually satisfactory. The Richmond girl was desirous of being released from Stroth as soon as his deception was proven, which the law grants her in such a case. The first wife asked that her husband should not be prosecuted, to which Miss Anna agreed.

—An albino Quail was shot near Atlanta, Ga., recently. It was pure white with the exception of the tail, which was of the usual color.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 14, 1893.

Gentlemen:—Ulcerated sore throat of a malignant form was prevailing in my neighborhood and affected both young and old. Stockton's Antiseptic cured my little son in one night after all other remedies had failed. I know of others who used it with same results.

As the smoke of last Tuesday's battle of the ballots clears away, there are presented many evidences that the democratic party was worse scared than hurt. With its return to power the majority in the Senate showed so little capacity for dealing with the great questions of finance and other matters and dallied while the country went on to ruin, that more than a million of democrats, disgusted and discouraged, failed to go to the polls. It was a severe rebuke, but if it prove the making of the party then we can truly say that all's well that ends well. The people have spoken, let the leaders heed or their last end will be worse than the first. It is fortunate for the democrats that their castigation came when it did. They will have time before the real test of the confidence reposed in their capability to run the government to think and correct the mistakes which have beset it. Fortunately no very serious results followed the election of last week. It will not effect the political complexion of the U. S. Senate, because the Legislatures chosen in Iowa, Kentucky and Virginia, the only ones that will elect senators, will return men of the same political faith as those who now hold the positions. On the whole we can not truthfully say that the party did not need the beating that it got and if it is wise it will profit in the end by it. If it shall the people will repose further confidence in it, if not it will be put out in the cold for another 30 years or more and what is worse it will have deserved it.

The New York World says the rout in that State was complete. "Everything is lost, including honor, which was sacrificed when a crime-tainted candidate was nominated for judge of our highest court. The disaster was courted when the State machine defied decency by the nomination of Maynard. That act was an affront to the moral sentiment of the State. It outraged every propriety of politics. It wantonly violated the sentiment of reverential respect with which the people of New York have ever regarded their court of last resort. It was an act that furnished a fitting climax to the sort of machine politics and boss rule which found expression in the snap convention of February, 1892, in the election of Murphy as Senator, in the flagrant violation of the democratic principle of home rule by the Legislature and in the subjection of the party to the will of an oligarchy. The verdict is significant. The year was propitious for the needed discipline. The State offices lost are relatively unimportant. A republican Legislature will be checked by a democratic governor. The honor of the Court of Appeals is saved. And the bosses have learned that there is a limit to the patience of the people."

The judge and jury in the trial that resulted in a death verdict for old John Brown, the Abolitionist, whose body was shortly afterwards "put into the ground, while his spirit went marching on," to quote from a song popular after his neck was broken, have been remarkable for their longevity. The trial occurred before the war, yet some of them are still living, while the judge has just "deceased," aged 84.

The Lexington Leader speaks of bawling one's birthright for a mess of porridge. It is not expected that a man who thinks as much about politics as Brer Roberts, should know much about Scripture, but we would suggest that he devote more time to the latter when he would perhaps discover that to be Biblically correct he must say pottage.

DAVID G. COLSON has caught on to an office at last. His majority for mayor of the defunct town of Middleboro is 314. It is to be hoped it did not cost him as much as his fruitless effort to beat Col. Silas Adams, which is said to have caused him to transfer $30,000 of good hard cash from his inside pocket to those of an unappreciative constituency.

The administration is determined that its office holders shall not become "offensively active partisans." It has through Secretary Carlisle said to a collector who inquired as to the propriety of serving as chairman of a democratic committee, that it would be best to leave himself free to devote all his time to the duties of his office.

The Louisville Post wastes neither words or pity on a poor fellow who wished to shuffle off his mortal coil. This is the way it disposes of a recent case: Harry Thomas, a young man living on Clay street, attempted suicide this morning. He shot at his brains but failed to locate them and inflicted only a wound in the scalp.

A LAWYER at Nashville gave the lie to Judge Sage, in his U. S. court at Nashville, who, strange to say, accepted an apology instead of breaking a chair over the fellow's head or sending him to jail.

THERE was no earthly excuse for a resort to mob law at Bardstown, but by the foolish action of a lot of misguided people the State was put to the expense of sending troops to protect a miserable negro charged with rape upon a white girl. The criminal was in the hands of the law, his crime was such as to admit of no doubt and the law was sure to inflict the punishment. The negro was promptly convicted and sentenced to die Jan. 5 and the result would have been the same without the mob demonstrations.

Or all the babies handled by the children's nursery at the World's Fair, but one was abandoned by its parents and not reclaimed. The Paris Fair had the same kind of a department and at its close 150 children were found to have been abandoned, presumably the offsprings of illicit love. The comparison speaks volumes in praise of the morals of this country.

McKINLEY's official plurality for governor of Ohio is just 81,347, and his majority over all about 40,000. Pretty good for an off year. Unless some great changes take place in the party that is ever changing, the republican presidential nominees in 1896 will be William McKinley of Ohio, and Thomas Brackett Reed, of Maine.

It is almost as safe to ride on railroads as it is to stay at home. The mathematician of the Inter-State Commission figures that only one person in 1,491,910 who ride as much as 24 miles on the cars is killed. In Kentucky the chances are greater than that to get hit by a flying bullet.

THE name of Gov. Boies' home town is Waterloo, Ia. He was beat in his own county nearly 1,000 votes. Who will say there is nothing in a name.

—The women had their innings to some extent last Tuesday. Mrs. A. T. Million, in Madison; Miss Lucy Pattie, in Franklin, and Miss Katie McDaniel, in Christian, are among the newly elected school superintendents in this State.

—Elisha G. Wilson has sued the election officers at Pineville for refusing to permit him to vote at the place he was accustomed to. The town had been divided into wards and that put him into another voting place. He wants $10,000 damages.

—The will of the late Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago, has been made public. With the exception of $10,000 donated to charitable institutions, the estate, valued at $950,000, is to be divided equally between his four children at the expiration of two years.

—A company with $5,000 capital has been formed at Tampa, Fla., to seek for Kidd's treasure. A depth of 30 feet has been reached and no gold struck, though a number of interesting discoveries, among them a petrified human heart, have been made.

—The New York Journal of Commerce estimates that the fire losses in this country and Canada during 10 months of 1893 amounted to $132,845,400, against $108,341,550 for the same period last year, showing the enormous increase of almost $25,000,000.

—President Higginbotham, of the World's Columbian Exposition, has given $100,000 from his private fortune to the endowment fund of the Columbian Museum, practically assuring the fulfillment of the condition attached to Marshal Field's gift of $1,000,000.

—Eight men, with the intention of robbing the bank at North Middletown, Bourbon county, rode into town and shot at every citizen who made his appearance, mortally wounding a negro. The band was repulsed by the citizens who wounded three seriously.

—A party consisting of Wm. E. Carlin, John Harvey Pierce and A. Himelwright, of New York, is lost in the mountains of the Northwest. The snow in the passes is four to six feet deep and it is probable they will have to spend the winter in the mountains.

—Owing to the failure of the last Legislature to pass the charter for cities of the second class the municipal officers chosen at Tuesday's election in Lexington, it seems, will have to wait patiently until April, 1894, before they will be permitted to take their seats.

—The Supreme Court of New Jersey declaring the present legislative apportionment act unconstitutional, has caused great consternation among the lawyers and politicians at the capitol and will cause restlessness among the assemblymen elect. It may render the late election null and void.

—Several gentlemen, prominently identified with the coal industry in Western Pennsylvania, are en route to the Jellico coal district on the Kentucky-Tennessee line, and if their inspection verifies statement made to them arrangements will be made at once for an extensive purchase and development.

—Saturday night the home of Phil Evans, the negro rapist sentenced to be hanged, was blown up with dynamite at Bardstown. The mother of Evans and his wife and daughter are missing, and it is believed that they were in the house at the time of the explosion. The better element in the country denounce the outrage.

—Minister Willis, acting under instructions from the State department, has taken such action in Hawaii as will restore the deposed queen to the throne. He finds that the provincial government there was virtually established by the intervention of the U. S. and that it was a great wrong to an independent State, beside a flagrant abuse of authority.

—The members of the National House Committee on Rivers and Harbors were taken on a trip up Kentucky river Saturday from Frankfort. A large delegation, consisting of Kentucky congressmen and citizens of Frankfort, accompanied the committee and the trip was greatly enjoyed. The members were deeply impressed with the needs for further government improvements, and it is thought probable that much good will result from the excursion.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Hon. R. C. WARREN went to Casey today.

Mrs. B. F. JONES returned from Lexington Saturday.

Miss MARY KAY has been the guest of Mrs. L. B. Cook.

Mrs. JACK TURNER, of Livingston, was the guest of Mrs. Rannie Burks.

Miss MAY ADAMS, of Grays, is visiting at Maj. Ed Rosser's, in Harrodsburg.

BRIGHT FERRELL received one vote for State Senator in the Stanford precinct.

Mrs. BLANCH SWEENEY, of Lancaster, was the guest of Mrs. Mary Engleman a few days.

Mr. J. R. MOUNT, of LaGrange, is here to see Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, who is gradually sinking.

We regret to learn that Miss Jennie, daughter of Prof. J. B. Walton, is in such bad health that her mother had to take her to Colorado.

Mr. F. M. FLENNER, who has for several years been in the mercantile business in Tennessee, has moved his family back to his farm near Turnersville.

Miss N. VIRGINIA JACKSON, of the College faculty, has been quite ill of a nervous affection, but is convalescent now. She is a splendid teacher and her classes are making rapid progress.

Mrs. W. A. RICE, with her daughter, Miss Allie, and sons, Alexia and Grover, are visiting Mrs. J. K. VanArsdale, her sister, whom she had not seen for 15 years.

Mr. A. A. LEWIS will not start that republican weekly at Frankfort this year, but may start another year. He is now police judge of Somerset, satisfied that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

Among the youngsters I saw capering around in the streets election day were Isaac Gibson, of Milledgeville, 88; Mat McKinney, of Mt. Salem, 85, and James Walker, formerly of Perryville, 86, and they were all as frolicsome and merry as boys of 21.—Dr. Alcorn in Danville Advocate.

When last heard from P. F. Smith, of Barnside, judge of that city, was chasing coyotes off his Perry, Cherokee Strip, lots and corraling votes for city attorney, for which office he was a full fledged candidate.—Somerset Reporter. Mr. Smith was one of the builders of the Cincinnati Southern and did a good deal of business in Stanford.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FOR RENT AND SALE.—Two cottages, both on Main Street. Apply to Miss Lizzie Beazley, Stanford, Ky.

PROF. A. L. VOIGT will speak on prohibition at the Court-House in Stanford, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 15 and 16, at 7 1/2 P. M.

LOST.—A white and yellow shepherd dog. Liberal reward for his return or information as to his whereabouts. J. A. Givens, McKinney.

A SLIGHT change of schedule went into effect on the L. & N. Sunday. Only the north-bound express is effected and that passes here now at 3:32 instead of 3:13 A. M.

SELECT your gifts from our complete stock and you will be sure of getting the most appropriate presents at the fairest figures you have ever known. Danks the jeweler.

COME in this week and examine our cloaks, fur capes, dress goods, kid gloves, underwear, boots, shoes, &c., and if you want patterns come and get the standard patterns. Hughes & Tate.

With a man in the tower always on the lookout to handle the interlocking switches, there ought to be no more collisions at Junction City and there will likely not be. The new system works like a charm.

LOST.—Hound bitch 4 months old; white with tan ears; spot on roof of tail about the size of a half dollar, black spot on left side, right nostril white. Finder will receive reward by returning to W. B. McKinney, Stanford.

LOST.—On the pike between Mt. Salem and McKinney on Saturday, Nov. 11th, a pair of gold framed spectacles. Finder will leave at W. R. Gooch's office in McKinney. Will pay a liberal reward Mrs. Fannie Givens, McKinney.

WINDOW glasses, all sizes, and W. B. McRoberts.

FINE candies in both stick and French at Farris & Hardin's.

Gifts for the little and big, old and young, at Danks', the jeweler.

Dogs killed seven and wounded a number of others of Will Hays' sheep Friday night.

JUPITER is now rivaling Venus for supremacy as the evening star and both are nearly as brilliant as the new moon.

THE young gentlemen will give a masked ball at Walton's Opera House on the 29th, the evening before Thanksgiving.

LINCOLN county only got one first premium at the World's Fair. It was awarded to Mr. W. P. Givens for the best corn.

The sheriff of Casey, Mr. Mac Wheat, advertises the property of 450 delinquents for sale on the 4th of December, the first day of the circuit court.

GEORGE ALFORD, of McKinney, is the proudest man in the State. A fine boy arrived at his house Sunday morning and he is hardly able to contain himself.

The next regularly booked company to appear at Walton's Opera House is the Farmer Hopkins Troupe, which will hold the boards Thanksgiving night.

Our choice selections for the holiday trade are now ready for the inspection and approval of all who know a good thing when they see it, at Danks', the jeweler.

A NUMBER of young couples surprised Mr. Warren Hocker the other night, but he was equal to the occasion and entertained them in great shape, not forgetting to minister to the inner man with nicely prepared refreshments.

WHAT has become of the Lecture Society? It furnished a great deal of profit and amusement last season; why not try it again? The loss that it sustained last year should not frighten the society into the sleepless sleep of death.

P. W. GREEN has rented of George Alford his livery stable at McKinney and opened out a first-class livery and feed stable. Mr. Samuel Engleman will be in charge and will always be ready to attend the wants of those who call.

I AM agent of the Excelsior Steam Laundry, Dayton, Ohio, the best laundry ever represented here. I will take up laundry on Monday mornings. Your trade solicited. Give me a call. All work guaranteed. Jesse D. Wearen.

In the county court yesterday A. C. Robinson's tax list was reduced from $7,000 to $70. Dr. S. G. Hocker was granted drug license. J. G. Weatherford qualified as guardian of M. P. Peacock and J. W. Eubanks of Ida Curtis.

THE Caledonian Literary Society of Turnersville will have open session at the school-house at that place Saturday night. There will be a debate by six young men of Stanford. Subject: "Which offers the Greatest Field for Work, the Pulpit or the Bar." Everybody cordially invited.

LOST.—A black and white sow, heavy with pigs, right ear split and left with hole in it. Will weigh about 200 pounds. She has not been seen since Mr. E. P. Woods shipped hogs from Rowland, Oct. 21st, when she was seen near cattle pen. A liberal reward will be paid for her return by Sam Myers, Stanford.

THE Somerset Reporter says that J. S. McWilliams is in jail there for shooting into the house of W. H. Gooch and wounding his little daughter. McWilliams went to Gooch's and called for W. C. Floyd, who failed to come out and it was then that he fired the shot. McWilliams was formerly postmaster at O. K., this county, and is a pretty bad citizen.

On Friday evening, 3d, a lady lost her pocket book containing over $20 and some other valuables on the pike near Shelby City. It had her name and address on a letter inside and the finder could not have helped knowing to whom it belonged. Advertisements were printed on posters and in newspapers, but nothing has been heard of it. The presumption is therefore not a violent one that the finder is a thief, who ought to be in the penitentiary instead of running at large.

THE congregation at the Presbyterian church here got the benefit of a good sermon by Rev. W. C. Young, president of Centre College, Danville, Sunday, which was intended for a Lancaster audience. The doctor drove Judge Jacob's horse, which is more accustomed to coming to Stanford than going to Lancaster, and when he got to the forks of the roads, he was too much immersed in his sermon to prevent the animal from choosing the route. He drove on till he reached the toll gate nearest Stanford, when he inquired "How far is it to Lancaster?" Mr. Dickinson told him 10 miles and then it was awakened to the reality of the situation. It was too late to reach Lancaster in time to preach so he went to the church here and being recognized by Mr. Slaymaker, was invited to preach and accepted the invitation. And it came to pass that what was Lancaster's loss was Stanford's gain.

Miss VIOLA's great show will likely pitch its tents here to-night.

THE "World's Fair" is in our midst and can be seen for 10 cents. It is located in front of the Court-house.

A MON formed at Livingston yesterday to hang Ballou, the train-wrecker, but the sheriff outwitted it, the more's the pity.

THE loveliest of weather has prevailed for a week, broken only by showers Sunday night, which did not last long. Generally fair and colder is the forecast for to-day.

THE 20 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Stanford, advertised by R. C. Mason for Mrs. S. M. Black, sold at auction yesterday to Sam T. Harris at $108 25, the lowest for a long time.

CAPT. T. E. CONNIFF, formerly a freight conductor on this division of the L. & N., has sued the company for $20,000 for injuries received at New Hope, while in the line of duty, and which have rendered him a cripple.

COLONEL ADAMS, son of G. A. Adams, of the East End, was tried yesterday before Judge Varnon on a charge of bestardty, brought by Miss Mary Jones. The jury believed him guilty and said that he should pay the mother $50 a year for 12 years.

WRECKED.—One of the most diabolical deeds ever known in this section was committed by Grant Collins and John Ballou Friday morning. The two scoundrels, with murder and robbery in their hearts, broke open the tool house near Altamont and securing the necessary outfit, proceeded to a curve on a down grade below there and opened the rails. In a short time express No. 27 with Phil Soden at the throttle and Capt. J. W. Rose in charge of the train, came thundering down the road. A dense fog prevailed and Mr. Soden could not have seen the disconnected rails had it been daylight, instead of about 2 A. M. In an instant there was a terrific jar and in another the engine lay wheels up down a 40 foot embankment. The engineer did not jump, but went down with the ponderous machine. Fortunately he was thrown from the cab in the turn over and to that he owes his escape from instant death. He was picked up 30 feet further down unhurt save a few scratches. When the engine left the track it broke loose from the train and that caused the air brakes to be applied with all their force; consequently only the baggage car and one day coach were overturned and they were laid alongside the track. The other cars, including two sleepers, remained in position, but the sudden check threw the passengers in great confusion. Strange to say, no one was seriously hurt. Fireman Tom Martin was bruised up considerably; Express Messenger W. H. Blessings was slightly hurt, so was Mail Messenger L. R. Hastings and the news butcher, whose name we could not get. A negro man named Coleman was the worst injured but his wounds are not serious. On being arrested the fiends confessed that they had committed the deed with the hope of killing all the passengers so that they could rob them unmolested. They were taken to the London jail and are still there, though they ought to have been hung. We are opposed to mob law, but when offenses are committed for which the law can not inflict adequate punishment, Judge Lynch should take a hand. Such fiends should not be permitted to live longer than their worthless necks can be broken. Though young they are steeped in crime and the sooner the world is rid of their presence the better. Their home is in Rockcastle, where they have frequently figured in the courts. They say that the reason they made no attempt to rob the passengers is that their nerve failed them after they saw what they had done.

—Rev. Ben Helm goes to Salvisa today to hold a meeting.

—Rev. W. E. Arnold will begin a meeting at Halls Gap next Monday night. Preaching at 6:30 P. M.

—Over 40 three-year-olds have taken records of 2:20 or better this year.

—Pascal placed the 10-mile trotting record at 26:15 at Fleetwood Park.

—Dick Gentry, of Boyle, bought of W. M. Murphy, yesterday, 32 export cattle at 4c.

—J. E. Bruce and son, Robert, dehorned 170 cattle for West End parties Thursday.

—W. W. Hays sold to Ed Carter 50 ewes at $4 and to Beazley Bros. 11 at the same price.

—McClure & Holman sold to J. S. Owsley, Sr., a bunch of 1,200-pound feeders at 3 1/2c.

—Josiah Bishop sold to Robert and Dave Logan and others 300 barrels corn in the field at $2.

—Wm. Rue & Son, of Danville, secured 88 premiums on harness and saddle horses this year.

—Budd Dobie says that the winnings of his stable for the campaign just closed amount to $53,953.33.

—Ed Walker, of Garrard, sold to Thomas Chenault, of Madison, 84 picked feeders, 1,280 pounds, at 3 1/2c.

—W. A. Offutt bought in Shelby county for Mrs. W. A. Moore and I. S. Shipman 100 stock ewes at $3.50.

—Sales of 20 mixed cattle at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 and some nice butcher heifers at 2c are noted in the Somerset Reporter.

—Horsemen say that a horse needs many months of training to the old sulky to go well after having got used to the bike.

—Feed stuff sold for cash only. Those who are now indebted will please call and settle their accounts at once. J. H. Baughman & Co.

—Directum has won 14 heats in 2:10 or better and after his match race with Alix, we'll wager he will be credited with three more.

—Leer Bros. sold a jennet to Posey & Son, of Russellville, for $1,300. They also sold a Wilkes colt to C. W. Martin, of Seymour, Ind., for $200.—Paris News.

—E. P. Woods shipped a car-load of hogs to Cincinnati Saturday, bought at 5 to 5 1/2. Of the number 17, averaging 225 lbs., were bought of Dr. L. B. Cook at 5 cents.

—The late fall gave opportunity to grow a second crop of tobacco from the suckers in Southern Kentucky and quite a number of farmers cut this second crop.

—Mr. John Bright says that a good deal of the forward wheat will be destroyed by the Hessian fly, as he has discovered a great many eggs on his and various other crops.

—The Harrodsburg Democrat reports sales of 40 head of 1,200 pound cattle at 3.62 1/2, two car loads of hogs at 5 1/2, 44 yearling cattle at 2 1/2 to 3 and 60 feeders of 1,100 pounds at 3c.

—J. P. Chandler, auctioneer, reports the sale of Chandler & Eaton as follows: Two-year-old heifers $17.50; Jersey heifer $25; milk cows $17; horses $72 to $85; corn in the field $1.85 per barrel and 10 tons of hay $77.

—E. S. Crume, of Nolin, sold so James M. Rinn 84 bushels of clover seed at $5.29 a bushel, amounting to $436.80. This seed Mr. Crume hulled from 32 acres after raising a good crop of grass on it.—Elizabethtown News.

—Writing from his new home near Farmington, Washington, and enclosing his subscription for another year, Mr. R. C. Bywaters writes: "This is a desolate looking country at present. We are not through harvesting yet and have half of the crop spoiled."

—State Commissioner of Agriculture McDowell says in his monthly report that the spring wheat crop is in fine condition to stand the winter, and calls attention to the fact that Kentucky is now recognized by Secretary Morton as one of the principal wheat growing states of the Union.

—A good crowd attended court yesterday, but business was generally dull. About 75 cattle were on the market, but not many sales were made. Butcher cattle brought 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c; 1,100-pound feeders 3c; a lot of mountain cattle at 2c. A number of plug horses and mules sold at $9.50 to $60.
